percent of those who are expected to graduate from high school in 1970. The commended students rank just below the 15,000 semi-finalists announced in September by the National Merit Scholarshio Corporation (NMSC).

Edward C. Smith, president of NMSC, said: "Although commended students advance no further in the Merit Scholarship competition, their outstanding record in a nationwide program deserves public recognition. Their significant academic attainment gives promise of continued success in college.

"The Commended students should be encouraged to pursue their education since their intellectual talent represents an important and much needed natural resource. Our nation will benefit from their continuing educational development."

The commended students' names are reported to other scholarship-granting agencies and to the college they named as their first and second choices when they took the NMSQT in February, 1969. The reports include home addresses, test scores, and anticipated college major and career intentions of the commended students. NMSC encourages these students to make every effort to continue their education.

'Old Parlor Tales'

FACULTY WIVES, SMU, TO HEAR PROGRAM ON OCTOBER 8th

Faculty Wives of S M U, Mrs. Ellis H. Whitaker of Padanaram, president, will gather in the main lounge of the University on Wednesday evening, October 8th, at 8 P.M. o'clock to hear what Miss Lydia LeBaron Walker of Mattapoisett will bring them about the early background of New Bedford, plus some lighthearted incidents and salty yarns, which Miss Walker has made into a special fabric for their entertainment as "Old Parlor Tales". Miss Walker will be presented in a gown which was the height of fashion for street wear in the late 1800's according to its wearer. This is the first of several appearances to be made by Miss Walker this season.

Lavish assistance has been offered Miss Walker in concocting this special version of her "Old Parlor Tales" by the librarians of Mattapoisett and Fairhaven, notably Mrs. Samuel Hathaway and Miss Rita Steele.

The troop skirted the shore of the harbor to Mattapoisett Neck, traveled around the Neck to Brandt Island Cove to the site of Manuel Nunes Camp where they camped this weekend. The canoes are fiberglas and are the result of a fine effort by scout leaders and volunteer help from other men of the town. The boys will now be able to undertake many interesting trips not only to their camp by sea but also river

Panhandling on Rte. 6

- Editorial

The method that local youth organizations have used to raise money is admirable. As far as I can remember, town youth have worked to earn their money. Paper drives have been very successful. Food sales have also been undertaken by the young people with fine results. Some very young and very unselfish youngsters have held yard sales to benefit the library and the museum.

No town organization has sent its youngsters out on Route 6 to beg.

On Saturday, motorists were extremely surprised, if from town, to be pounced on at the most dangerous intersection in Mattapoisett by youths thrusting tin cups into the windows of their cars. Motorists, not from Mattapoisett, no doubt, were both annoyed and disgusted. On this intersection of Main Street and Route 6, cars have been running the lights at high speed all summer. Strangers just don't realize the lights are there. Yet, Saturday, boys were swarming between the cars on all corners creating both a distraction and a hazard. I checked at the police station because I didn't recognize this group of boys. The group was from New Bedford and had applied and received permission to collect money at the spot by that method. Young people who live in Mattapoisett are not allowed to beg money on the highway and rightly so. Before it becomes a practice to allow out of town organizations to do this, the ban should also be applied to them. At the very least, it is degrading to the community because strangers have no way of knowing that the people who are demanding money from them are not from town. It is degrading to the young people who do the panhandling. It is extremely distracting at a corner where the motorist needs to have his full attention on the road. It is very dangerous for these same young people who are ducking in front of and behind vehicles both in the highway and in its feeder streets. It is dangerous for the town which give permission and, presumably, is therefore liable in the event of injury or death. It is dangerous for the motorist to be given one extra hazard to confront needlessly.

I, for one, don't think much of this practice. I believe that it should be stopped. The rule which prohibits Mattapoisett youth from begging on the highway should be extended to apply to out of town people and it should be done at once, both for the sake of the young people involved and for the good name of the town. D.C.J.

For Halloween:

Put Popcorn On A Stick

A favorite with all trick or treaters is popcorn balls. Put popcorn balls or popcorn discs on a stick and Holloweeners will like them even better. This year there's a new twist to the Halloween popcorn ball. It is called popcorn uglies and the idea is to decorate the balls with the ugliest faces you can scare up. Do it with pieces of candy corn, candy wafers, chocolate chips and licorice laces dipped in Karo. Kids love popcorn uglies, the perfect treat for a scary Halloween.

Popcorn on a Stick

- ⅔ cup Karo light or dark corn syrup
- ⅔ cup sugar
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 2 quarts popped corn

Mix corn syrup, sugar and salt in heavy saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil and boils 2 minutes. Gradually pour syrup over popped corn stirring constantly until evenly coated. With greased hands, shape into balls or into discs using as little pressure as possible. (If popcorn mixture cools during shaping, place over low heat.) Insert wooden stick into popcorn ball or disc. To decorate popcorn balls or discs, dip pieces of candy corn, candy wafers, chocolate chips and licorice laces in Karo and apply. Makes 6 popcorn balls or 10 discs.

Junior Grange

Mattapoisett Junior Grange held its first meeting by the newly installed officers, with worthy master James Livesy presiding, last Friday night, September 26th.

Guests escorted to the master's right were Mrs. Phyllis Alcobia of the young couple of the year and the worthy master of Scituate Junior Grange, Alma Tisdale.

It was voted to omit the October 24th meeting because it comes during the State Grange Session, when the master, patron and assistants will be attending.

This being the date the lecturer had planned for the hay ride, it was decided and voted to have it November 28th.

The lecturer's march was awarded to Kathleen Cotter. Games were played during the lecturer's program.

Refreshments were served by Karen Buckley and Donna Layport.

Y.W.C.A. Events

An overnight "foliage trip" to Hudson River Valley, October 11th and 12th, is the interesting weekend offered by the fast growing YWCA Travel Club. Plans completed at last Friday's meeting scheduled a visit to West Point Academy on Saturday and accommodations at night at Holiday Inn in Newburg, New York. On Sunday the group will go to Hyde Park, visit Franklin D. Roosevelt's home, the Roosevelt Library and the Vanderbilt Mansion nearby.

Members who have not made reservations are urged to do so at once as the numbers of travelers is limited to 40. Call the Y.

The Inter-Club Council meeting tomorrow evening at 7:30, for officers and representatives of YWCA clubs will give opportunity for discussions of programs and make possible better coordination of YWCA's planned events and activities with the plans of various groups at the Y. Together, the overall planning of the year's calendar will consider all areas of programming and scheduling.

All officers are urged to attend or send a representative. The meeting will be in charge of Miss Jean Campbell, executive director.

Couples who enjoy yoga will have the opportunity to attend "Couples Nite Out", beginning Thursday, October 2nd. This is a new class added this fall to make it possible for couples to come to the Y together.

OPENING DAY AT ORRHS GOES SMOOTHLY THANKS TO COMPUTER-AIDED SCHEDULING

Schedules were all set when three weeks before opening day it became clear that "temporary" classroom space would not be available. With the aid of The Sippican Corporation's computer facility in Marion, it was possible to recast the schedule.

Mr. Frank Gifune, principal of ORRHS, said, "Opening day went unbelievably smoothly. Usually we have students looking for non-existent classes or classes with standing room only. This year, in spite of the need for last minute changes, we were able to do better than ever before. Thanks of the district are due to the top management of The Sippican Corporation for making their surplus computer time available gratis to the school district and to Sippican's data processing staff for their help and cooperation."

During the current school year the computer will aid in the maintenance of students' record files. Mr. Gifune emphasized, "Just because we are using computers doesn't mean that everything printed by the computer is gospel truth. If we put in errors they may be propagated with fantastic speed. But we aren't going to be a party to blaming the machine for human errors and we won't claim that errors can't be corrected because of the computer system."

BILL TO STUDY MARIJUANA PROBLEM

Congressman Hastings Keith announced last week that he was co-sponsoring a bill that would establish a Presidential Commission to study all aspects of the marijuana problem.

"Few issues raise more heat and less light than the question of marijuana use," Keith said in announcing his support for the bill. "Every community in my district -- indeed, every community in the country is aware of and concerned with this problem."

"Right now about the only established fact about marijuana is that for one reason or another, millions of our young people use it. I would like to see some other facts determined. To what extent, if any, does marijuana cause or lead to crime? What are its true psychological and physiological effects? Does its use lead to more dangerous drugs? Is it addictive? And are our current laws too tough -- or too lenient?"

"These are questions that the special Commission would be asked to answer."

"If marijuana is harmful, then we should stiffen the laws to curb its use. If it is not, we should consider revision of the statutes with that fact in mind. But before any changes are considered we must know the facts, and this Commission, I hope, will get them."

The Congressman noted that the proposed commission had been endorsed by Attorney General John Mitchell, in testimony before a Senate sub-committee.

The bill would establish a nine-member "Commission on Marijuana", whose members would be appointed by the President. Patterned after the Warren Commission, it would be able to hire a staff or experts to assist it in its work.
